

Latest Show Date and Venue of SIOF 2022
22 – 24 April 2022, Suzhou International Expo Center

Dear Exhibitors,

In order to implement the overall deployment of national epidemic prevention, effectively protect the health and the benefits of exhibitors and visitors and minimize the impact of the epidemic on the exhibition, after taking into account the suitable show period, investigating the facilities of various exhibition halls and feedback from the exhibitors, the organizer has decided to postpone the 21st China (Shanghai) International Optics Fair (SIOF 2022) originally scheduled to be held at the Shanghai World Expo Exhibition and Convention Center from February 21 - 23 to April 22 - 24 and changes the venue to Suzhou International Expo Center.

We apologize for the inconvenience caused! However, the Organizing Committee will take advantage of the time spared from the adjournment to improve exhibition planning and advertising, introducing innovative activities, enhancing buyer invitation, upgrading services and all other related works, in order to build a higher-quality comprehensive trade services platform for exhibitors and buyers. Attached please find the revised measures for the exhibition, we will contact and confirm the details with all exhibitors after the Lunar New Year.

Suzhou is one of the important city centers in the Yangtze River Delta; it is a national high-tech industrial base, with developed economy and beautiful environment. It is only one hour's drive from Shanghai and well reached by high-speed rail and airport bus. It is also a connecting hub of the important manufacturing areas of our eyewear industry. The new venue, Suzhou International Expo Center, enjoys the advantages of convenient transportation, ample exhibition area with complete peripheral facilities, it is well ready to host SIOF 2022. We will continue to actively co-ordinate and communicate with all related parties, and do our best to make the exhibition this time an innovative, high-quality and very fruitful event!

We must also take this opportunity to thank you for your full and continuous support and understanding.

Organizing Committee of the 21st China (Shanghai) International Optics Fair
(SIOF2022)