SIOF 2011

Gateway to Unparalleled Business Opportunities

Dear Optical Associate,

We are truly delighted to announce that the 11th China (Shanghai) international Optics Fair (SIOF 2011) will be held on 18-20 February 2011. Widely recognized by the optical professionals as the most timely, sizeable fair in Asia, SIOF never ceases to amaze the optics industry with the creativity and diversity of optical products and technology galore on display.

In retrospect, SIOF 2010 has set a new record. Its exhibition area had the span of 38,000 square meters filled with 770 exhibitors, including principals and agents, from 25 countries and regions. And among them, 283 exhibitors are international ones, making up 37% of the total. SIOF also showcased 339 international brands, reconsolidating its status as an international optical fair!

Following our previous success, the 11th SIOF is poised to witness new miracle! SIOF 2011 will continue to perform as a cannot-be-missed trading platform and information dissemination hub featuring a diverse array of innovative optical merchandises and cutting edge technology.

Situated at the heart of the Yangtze River Delta Economic Zone, Shanghai is among the world fastest-growing economies, thanks to the Chinese Government's effort in enhancing the city's global status. Not long ago, China's State Council reinstated the nation's determination to make Shanghai a shining international financial and logistics hub by 2010. But above all, the World Expo 2010 has put Shanghai under the limelight, leaving the city imbued with excitement and business opportunities. And all the above-mentioned factors have made SIOF 2011 a must-go fair for the worldwide buyers in their quest for the most sought-after optical items!
